Peter M. Cardillo Receives Florida Bar Board of Legal Specialization Certification in Business Litigation

Tampa, FL. (August, 2012) ó Termite Law Attorney Peter M. Cardillo has been recertified by the Florida Bar in the specialty area of Business Litigation. Mr. Cardillo has held this certification since 1996 when the Business Litigation certification was originally created. Only 7% percent of eligible Florida Bar members (approximately 4,500) are board certified.

Mr. Cardillo is a noted authority in the area of termite claims litigation and has tried more than 30 jury cases during his legal career. He continues to focus his practice exclusively on representing property owners that have termite damage claims against insurance companies and exterminators including homeowners, condominium associations, apartment complexes and commercial developers. He is ðAVö Peer Review Rated by Martindale-Hubbell, the highest such rating given by that organization.

Board certification recognizes attorneysøspecial knowledge, skills and proficiency in various areas of law and professionalism and ethics in practice. It is the highest level of evaluation by The Florida Bar of competency and experience within an area of law, professionalism, and ethics in practice. Established in 1982 by the Florida Supreme Court, board certification helps consumers of legal services identify specialists in various areas of law. Board certified Florida Bar members are the only Florida attorneys allowed to identify themselves as "Board Certified," "Specialist," "Expert." Board certification is valid for five years, during which time the attorney must continue to practice law and attend Florida Bar-approved continuing legal education courses. To be recertified, lawyers must meet requirements similar to those for initial certification.
